Management

All contributions and bequests received by the Dakota Marksmanship Foundation will be distributed in one of two ways. If the grantor wishes the donation to go to a specific purpose he/she may specify the recipient of the funds (within the mission of the Foundation). Unspecified donations will be distributed by the Foundations board of directors to benefit shooting ranges and marksmanship programs in North Dakota.

Methods of Giving

Outright Gifts: This is a simple, convenient way to donate and receive maximum tax advantage. Money, securities, or property may be transferred to the fund, and the donor receives a tax deduction based on the value at the time of transfer. The donor will not be subject to capital gains tax on any appreciation.

Outright Bequests: Donors may provide gifts to the foundation by a will. The will can provide for a stated sum, for a stated percentage, or for the residue and remainder of the estate, real or personal.

Charitable Remainder Trust: Gifts made in this manner can pay a lifetime income to the donor or his designee. After death, the residue of the trust becomes property of the foundation.

Life Insurance: By naming the fund as the irrevocable beneficiary of a life insurance policy, donors are entitled to an immediate tax deduction in the amount of the cash value of the policy. Premiums paid thereafter are deductible from income tax.

Memorials: Gifts honoring individuals are an appropriate way of indicating one's care and concern. Funds are welcome as memorials, gifts, or annual donations.
